Date Prepared/Updated:	27 April 2026

Position Purpose

The Nurse Unit Manager (NUM), Nursing at Home, based at Sunshine Hospital, provides operational and clinical leadership for a diverse portfolio of non-admitted, community-based nursing services comprising approximately 37 EFT of staff. The role oversees Residential In-Reach (RIR), Community Nursing, the Central Access Unit (intake and triage), Liaison Nursing Team (1300 service), and Remote Patient Monitoring.

Nursing at Home delivers community-based nursing care to patients in their homes and residential aged care settings, supporting chronic disease management, post-acute care, early intervention, and hospital avoidance through timely assessment, monitoring, and escalation. The NUM is responsible for the integration and performance of these services, ensuring consistent models of care, safe clinical practice, and efficient workforce utilisation across a geographically dispersed team. This includes oversight of intake, triage, referral pathways, and service delivery to ensure timely access, appropriate prioritisation, and seamless navigation across community and hospital interfaces.

The NUM fosters a high-performing, patient-centred workforce, drives service integration with internal and external partners, and ensures care delivery is responsive, coordinated, and aligned with Western Health's strategic priorities.

Through visible and accessible leadership, the Nurse Unit Manager is at the forefront of providing care that is underpinned by right, safe, coordinated and high-quality nursing consumer centred care across the multidisciplinary environment of their unit. The role is responsible for the operational, professional and clinical service management of their staff and resources. The NUM will achieve this through the development of effective partnerships, leadership and management of all nursing staff and resources, within a multidisciplinary team environment.

Our Vision

Together, we deliver the healthcare of the future
Simple – Sustainable – Connected – Innovative

As a professional Registered Nurse, the Nurse Unit Manager is accountable for :

- The maintenance of their own clinical knowledge, further education and working within the confines of their specific scope of practice at all times, in accordance with the boundaries set by their experience and skill.
- Ensuring that they are registered to work as a Registered Nurse in Australia at all times whilst working as a Nurse within Western Health and practice in alignment with Nursing & Midwifery Board of Australia (NMBA) Registered Nurse Standards for Practice

The NUM fulfils key accountabilities for the unit, including the development of the clinical area business plan linking with the Divisional business plan. These accountabilities encompasses the coordination and management of the daily operations of the clinical area, activity and access of bed/service utilisation, budget, safety and quality, facilities and equipment, staff recruitment and retention, workforce KPIs such as personal and annual leave, performance development/management, coordination of staff development programs and management of designated portfolios.

The NUM must provide robust clinical leadership and management expertise, to be an active mentor, role model, and to facilitate the development of clinical and management skills in all staff consigned within their responsibility. The NUM will work alongside the team to ensure that there robust clinical leadership and administrative capability and presence on the Ward/Unit, with daily rounding to all consumers.

Attributes for effective NUM Leadership include:

- Being visible and accessible in the clinical area to the multidisciplinary clinical team, consumers and service users, for example by being available to visitors and enabling team members to ask questions
- Working alongside the team in a collaborative capacity, for example by supporting junior colleagues with the provision of direct care, fostering a culture of learning and discovery, maintaining their clinical practice as part of the roster
- Monitoring and evaluating standards of care provided by the multidisciplinary clinical team, for example enabling reflective review at staff handover, bringing staff together to review clinical and workforce data and conducting ward based nursing audits
- Providing regular feedback to the nursing clinical team on standards of nursing care provided and experience by consumers and service users, for example by giving feedback at the end of each interaction with nursing staff, at the end of the shift or in handover and using consumer survey results to drive change
- Creating a culture of learning, development and research that will sustain best care, for example by ensuring there are systems in place to evaluate and develop nursing practice, support shared governance and decision making and enhance individual/team performance to improve consumer care delivery and enhance the consumer experience
- The NUM will foster a culture of inclusiveness, trust, flexibility, accountability and continuous quality improvement. The role will work collaboratively to ensure improvements and ideas support best care, strategic priorities and a consumer focused philosophy

The NUM will contribute to providing quality health and well-being services for our consumers demonstrating proficient to expert behaviours across the five domains of leadership, research, evidence-based practice, education & learning and clinical expertise as identified in the Western Health Nursing and Midwifery Professional Practice Framework.

accommodation and the custodial setting. The division is rapidly expanding to meet the needs of the community through the delivery of innovative, integrated and patient centered care. Western Health at Home services support patients across the continuum of care with a primary objective to support patients to live more healthy days at home. Our breadth of services, clinics and units work collaboratively to reduce avoidable hospital presentations and support early and sustainable hospital discharges. Through multidisciplinary service delivery, integration with primary care, research and clinical trials our division supports the detection, management and secondary prevention of chronic disease. The division's medical specialties include Renal, Endocrinology and Diabetes, Geriatric Medicine and the General Practice (GP) Integration Unit. Western Health at Home provides a range of acute and subacute services that deliver hospital level care within the comfort of a patient's home. These services include Hospital in the Home, Rehab at Home, GEM at Home, Community Based Transition Care Program and Dialysis at Home, which deliver healthcare that would otherwise be provided within an inpatient setting. Western Health at Home's breadth of community-based care and specialty assessment clinics provide comprehensive care to support the management of chronic disease. The division has chronic dialysis units located at all Western Health main campuses and acute units at Sunshine and Footscray Hospital. Western Health at Home manages a primary healthcare service within Dame Phyllis Frost Centre, a maximum-security women's prison located in Melbourne's West.
