Classification:	Nurse Unit Manager – Level 2
Reports To:	Operational: Operations Manager; Professional: Director of Nursing & Midwifery
Direct Reports:	Associate Nurse Unit Managers; Registered Nurses; Enrolled Nurses; Registered Undergraduate Students of Nursing
Date Prepared/Updated:	05/11/2025

Position Purpose

The Short Stay Unit is a newly established department within the Emergency Department at the New Footscray Hospital. The Nurse Unit Manager (NUM) will play a pivotal role in its initial development, implementation, and ongoing operation. Working closely with the leadership team, the NUM will help shape the Model of Care and ensure the unit delivers safe, efficient, and consumer-focused services from inception.

Through visible and accessible leadership, the NUM is at the forefront of providing care that is underpinned by right, safe, coordinated and high-quality nursing patient centred care across the multidisciplinary environment of their unit. The role is responsible for the operational, professional, and clinical service management of their staff and resources. The NUM will achieve this through the development of effective partnerships, leadership and management of all nursing staff and resources, within a multidisciplinary team environment.

As a professional Registered Nurse, the Nurse Unit Manager is accountable for:

- The maintenance of their own clinical knowledge, further education and always working within the confines of their specific scope of practice, in accordance with the boundaries set by their experience and skill.
- Ensuring that they are registered to always work as a Registered Nurse in Australia whilst working as a Nurse within Western Health.

The NUM fulfils key accountabilities for the unit, including the development of the clinical area business plan linking with the Divisional business plan. These accountabilities encompass the coordination and management of the daily operations of the clinical area, activity and access of bed/service utilisation, budget, safety and quality, facilities and equipment, staff recruitment and retention, workforce KPIs such as sick and annual leave performance development/management, coordination of staff development programs and management of designated portfolios.

Our Vision

Together, we deliver the healthcare of the future
Simple – Sustainable – Connected – Innovative

The NUM must provide robust clinical leadership and management expertise, to be an active mentor, role model, and to facilitate the development of clinical and management skills in all staff consigned within their responsibility. The NUM will work alongside the team to ensure that their robust clinical leadership and administrative capability and presence on the Ward/Unit, with daily rounding to all patients.

Attributes for effective NUM Leadership include:

- Being visible and accessible in the clinical area to the multidisciplinary clinical team, patients, and service users, for example by being available to visitors and enabling team members to ask questions.
- Working alongside the team in a collaborative capacity, for example by supporting junior colleagues with the provision of direct care, fostering a culture of learning and discovery, maintaining their clinical practice as part of the roster.
- Monitoring and evaluating standards of care provided by the multidisciplinary clinical team, for example enabling reflective review at staff handover, bringing staff together to review clinical and workforce data and conducting ward-based nursing audits.
- Providing regular feedback to the nursing clinical team on standards of nursing care provided and experience by patients and service users, for example by giving feedback at the end of each interaction with nursing staff, at the end of the shift or in handover and using patient survey results to drive change.
- Creating a culture of learning, development and research that will sustain best care, for example by ensuring there are systems in place to evaluate and develop nursing practice, support shared governance and decision making and enhance individual/team performance to improve patient care delivery and enhance the patient experience.
- The NUM will foster a culture of inclusiveness, trust, flexibility, accountability, and continuous quality improvement. The role will work collaboratively to ensure improvements and ideas support best care, strategic priorities and a patient focused philosophy.
